National History Museum

What we do:

From microscopic slides to mammoth skeletons, the Natural History Museum is home to the largest and most important natural history collection in the world. The museum houses permanent collections and is also host to a rich programme of exhibitions and events throughout the year. The Natural History Museum places children and their experiences at the fore – from the way exhibits are presented, the galleries laid-out, and trails and activities provided including:

- Explore & Discover Guides
- Cutting Edge workshops
- Animal Vision workshops
- Hands-on family activities
- The Investigate Centre
- Explorer backpacks
- Challenges and other activities for children

At the heart of all it does, the Natural History Museum has very clear visitor outcomes: enjoyment, creativity and inspiration.
